

History

The History curriculum at Wootton Bassett Infant School is designed to stimulate our children's natural curiosity about the way of life of people living in the past and about significant figures and events. We teach using a cross curriculum approach that provides our children with the opportunity to attain a range of skills and knowledge and then build upon this over time. We deliver our curriculum through the use of Big Questions with each lesson begins with a "Small Question" which will provide skills and knowledge to help the children achieve the Big Question answer. This way the children can clearly see progress in their own understanding and recognise the purpose of the activities that they undertake. Lessons are cross curricular in order to give deeper meaning to learning and provide our children with opportunities to apply and embed their knowledge and skills.
