Dear Parents,

Here at Wootton Bassett Infant School, we want to foster a love of reading. To ensure that we do this, we would like to remind you of our reading incentive 'Top 100 books to read before you leave WBIS!' The books include some of those that the children experience in school as well as some that are recognised as being good quality texts for younger children. We have updated the list with some new and exciting books published this year.

Every time your child shares or reads one of the texts on the list you need to sign and date the sheet. For every 20 reads, please share the list with your child's class teacher as your child will receive a prize.

We have also introduced a poetry spine for each year group. Just tick off the poem when it has been shared with your child. The poetry spine includes pure poems alongside poetry picture books for your children to enjoy.

These lists can be found on our website in Key Information under Curriculum. The library in Wootton Bassett has a copy of the list so the books can be borrowed from there as well as from the school library and the classrooms. We also have links with the local bookshop who will order books in if they don't have them in stock -we are always keen to support our local businesses. With Christmas fast approaching it is worth considering some of the lovely books that are on our 100 Books to read before you leave WBIS as they could make lovely Christmas presents for the children.

We hope that by introducing this incentive all the children will be inspired and find a real and long- lasting pleasure in reading.

Thank you for supporting your child and the school in this venture.

Happy Reading!
